TicketFlow Help Center

Booking, Payment, Refund and Event Policies

Version 1.0 · Effective 1 October 2026 · Applies to all events listed on TicketFlow

1. About TicketFlow

TicketFlow is an online platform for discovering and booking tickets to live events in Pakistan, including concerts, stand-up comedy, conferences, workshops and sports matches. Event organizers use TicketFlow to publish events and sell tickets, and customers use it to find events, book seats and manage their bookings.

This document explains how bookings, payments, cancellations and refunds work, the rules that apply at events, and the responsibilities of organizers. Where an organizer's own event terms are stricter than this policy, the organizer's terms are shown on the event page and also apply.

2. Accounts

Account types

TicketFlow has two types of accounts. A customer account is used to browse events, book tickets and manage bookings. An organizer account is used to create and publish events, set up ticket types and view sales reports. Organizer accounts cannot book tickets, and customer accounts cannot create events. A person who needs both must register two separate accounts with different email addresses.

Creating and securing an account

Each email address can be registered only once. Passwords must be at least 8 characters long. Passwords are stored in encrypted form, and TicketFlow staff will never ask for a customer's password by phone, email or WhatsApp. After logging in, a session stays active for 30 minutes of inactivity, after which the user must log in again.

If a customer forgets their password, they can reset it from the login page using the "Forgot password" link. The reset link is sent to the registered email address and is valid for 1 hour.

Age requirement

Customers must be at least 18 years old to create an account and make payments. Customers under 18 may attend events using tickets booked by a parent or guardian, subject to the age rules in section 9.

3. Events and ticket types

Each event has a title, venue, city, category, date and start time. Events are created by organizers and stay in draft status until the organizer publishes them. Draft events are not visible to customers and cannot be booked. Only published events appear in search results.

Customers can search events by city, category and date range. Categories include music, comedy, conference, workshop and sports.

Ticket types

An event can offer several ticket types, each with its own price and number of seats. The most common types are VIP and General. VIP tickets usually include priority entry and seating closer to the stage, while General tickets provide standard entry. The exact benefits of each ticket type are described by the organizer on the event page.

The number of available seats shown on the event page is updated in real time. When all seats of a ticket type have been booked, that ticket type is marked Sold out.

4. Booking tickets

How a booking works

To book, a logged-in customer selects an event, chooses one or more ticket types and the quantity of each, and confirms. A single booking can contain different ticket types for the same event, for example 2 VIP and 3 General tickets. A booking cannot include tickets for more than one event.

A customer can book a maximum of 10 tickets per booking, and a maximum of 10 tickets per event across all of their bookings. This limit prevents bulk buying and reselling.

Booking statuses

Status	Meaning
Pending	The booking has been created and the seats are reserved, but payment has not been completed yet.
Confirmed	Payment was successful. The tickets are valid for entry.
Cancelled	The customer cancelled the booking. The seats have been released.
Expired	Payment was not completed in time. The booking ended automatically and the seats were released.

The 10-minute payment window

When a booking is created, its seats are held for the customer for 10 minutes. During this time no one else can book those seats. If payment is not completed within 10 minutes, the booking expires automatically and the seats become available to other customers again. An expired booking cannot be paid or reactivated; the customer must make a new booking, and the same seats may no longer be available.

Sold-out events and fair booking

When many customers try to book the last seats at the same moment, TicketFlow processes the requests one at a time, so the same seat is never sold to two people. If the requested seats are no longer available when a customer's request is processed, the booking is refused with a "Not enough seats available" message and no payment is taken.

TicketFlow does not operate a waiting list. Seats from expired or cancelled bookings return to sale immediately, so customers interested in a sold-out event are advised to check the event page again later.

5. Payments

Prices are shown in Pakistani Rupees (PKR) and include all taxes. A service fee of 5% of the ticket price is added at checkout for every booking. The full amount, including the service fee, is shown before the customer pays.

TicketFlow accepts debit and credit cards (Visa and Mastercard), JazzCash and Easypaisa. Cash payments at the venue are not accepted for bookings made on TicketFlow.

Failed payments and double charges

If a payment fails, the booking stays pending and the customer can try again with the same or a different payment method, as long as the 10-minute window has not ended. If money was deducted from the customer's account but the booking still shows as pending or expired, the deducted amount is reversed automatically within 3 working days. If it is not reversed within that time, the customer should contact support with the booking number and a screenshot of the deduction.

If a customer is charged twice for the same booking, the duplicate charge is refunded in full within 5 to 7 working days.

6. Cancellations by the customer

A customer can cancel a confirmed booking from the "My bookings" page. A pending booking does not need to be cancelled: if it is not paid, it expires on its own after 10 minutes and nothing is charged.

When the customer cancels	Refund
More than 24 hours before the event starts	Full refund of the ticket price. The 5% service fee is not refunded.
Within 24 hours of the event start time	No refund.
After the event has started, or after not attending	No refund.

A booking is cancelled as a whole. Cancelling only some tickets from a booking, for example 2 out of 5, is not possible. To keep fewer tickets, the customer can cancel the whole booking, if it is still more than 24 hours before the event, and book again.

Cancelled bookings cannot be restored. Once a booking is cancelled, its seats are released immediately and may be booked by someone else.

7. Refunds

Approved refunds are processed within 5 to 7 working days and are always returned to the original payment method. Card refunds may take an additional few days to appear, depending on the customer's bank. Refunds to JazzCash and Easypaisa wallets usually appear within the 5 to 7 working day period. TicketFlow cannot transfer refunds to a different card, wallet or bank account.

The customer receives an email when the refund is issued. The refund status can also be checked on the "My bookings" page.

When the event is cancelled or changed by the organizer

If an organizer cancels an event, all confirmed bookings for that event are refunded automatically in full, including the 5% service fee. Customers do not need to request this refund.

If an event is postponed to a new date, existing tickets remain valid for the new date. Customers who cannot attend on the new date may request a full refund, including the service fee, within 7 days of the postponement announcement. After those 7 days, the normal cancellation rules in section 6 apply to the new date.

If the venue changes to a different city, customers may request a full refund regardless of timing. A venue change within the same city does not qualify for a refund on its own.

8. Tickets and entry

After payment is confirmed, the customer receives an e-ticket by email, and the ticket is also available on the "My bookings" page. Each ticket has a unique QR code. Printed tickets are not required; showing the QR code on a phone is accepted.

Each QR code can be scanned only once. If the same ticket is shared and scanned by someone else first, the second person will not be allowed entry. Customers should not post ticket screenshots on social media.

Gates usually open 1 hour before the event start time. Late entry is allowed until 30 minutes after the start time, after which the organizer may refuse entry without a refund.

Visitors may be asked to show a valid CNIC or other government photo ID that matches the name on the booking. Lost or deleted tickets can be downloaded again at any time from "My bookings".

Transferring tickets

Tickets cannot be transferred to another TicketFlow account or resold. Reselling tickets above face value is not allowed, and tickets found on resale sites may be cancelled without a refund. A customer may bring guests using tickets from their own booking, as long as each guest has their own ticket.

9. Rules at events

The following rules apply at all events listed on TicketFlow unless the event page states otherwise. Security staff at the venue may refuse entry to anyone who does not follow them, and refused entry is not refunded.

- Pets and animals: pets and animals, including dogs and cats, are not allowed at events. Trained assistance animals for visitors with disabilities are allowed if the organizer is informed in advance.
- Children: children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult at all times. Every child aged 3 and above needs their own ticket. Children under 3 may enter free if they sit on an adult's lap. Some events are marked 18+ on the event page, and no one under 18 is admitted to those events.
- Food and drinks: outside food and drinks are not allowed. Sealed bottled water and baby food are permitted. Food and drinks are available for purchase at most venues.
- Prohibited items: weapons, fireworks, glass bottles, large bags over 40 cm, professional cameras with detachable lenses, and laser pointers are not allowed.
- Smoking: smoking and vaping are not allowed inside venues.
- Re-entry: once a ticket has been scanned, leaving the venue and entering again is not allowed.

Accessibility

Visitors who use a wheelchair or need assistance should contact support at least 48 hours before the event, so that the organizer can arrange accessible seating and entry. One companion of a visitor with a disability may enter free of charge if requested in advance.

10. Information for organizers

Organizers create events in draft status, add ticket types with a price and number of seats, and publish the event when it is ready. An organizer can only view, edit or delete their own events.

Once an event has at least one confirmed booking, its price and number of seats can no longer be reduced, and the event cannot be deleted; it can only be cancelled, which triggers automatic full refunds for all customers as described in section 7.

Organizers can see a sales report for each of their events, showing tickets sold per ticket type, remaining seats and total revenue. Only confirmed bookings are counted in revenue. Payouts are sent to the organizer's registered bank account within 10 working days after the event has taken place, after deducting a platform commission of 8% of ticket sales.

11. Privacy

TicketFlow collects the name, email address and phone number of customers to manage bookings and send tickets. Organizers receive only the name and ticket details of people who booked their events, not their payment details. TicketFlow does not store full card numbers; payments are handled by the payment provider. Customers can request deletion of their account by contacting support, after which personal data is deleted within 30 days, except records that must be kept for legal and tax purposes.

12. Contacting support

TicketFlow support is available from 10:00 am to 8:00 pm, Monday to Saturday (Pakistan time). Support can be reached through the in-app chat, by email at support@ticketflow.example, or by WhatsApp. Most queries are answered within 24 hours. On event days, support for that event's ticket holders is available until the event ends.

When contacting support, customers should include their booking number, which starts with "TF-" and is shown on the e-ticket and on the "My bookings" page.

TicketFlow is a portfolio project. This policy describes sample rules for demonstration and for testing the TicketFlow AI assistant; it is not a real commercial service.